TO RESTRAIN MRS. SHAW.

The Denver "Sunworshippers" will not get their new temple without a prolonged legal battle. The announcement that Mrs. Ellen M. Shaw, of Lowell, Mass., is about to give $50,000 for this purpose was followed yesterday by the news that relatives have applied to the courts to restrain her on the ground that she is mentally incapable of taking care of her property. The petition filed by Mabelle M. Dutton, of Boston, a niece, asks that on account of Mrs. Shaw's age and condition a guardian be appointed to take care of her and her valuable estate.

SAW MANY WATERSPOUTS.

Captain W. K. Matheson, of the Dix & Wilkins' three-mast schooner, W. H. Dix, which arrived in Baltimore yesterday from San Andreas, Central America, with a cargo of cocoanuts, reported that on September 5, in latitude 33° 15′ north and longitude 77° 16′ west, between 9 and 10 a. m., encountering a large number of waterspouts, one of which came dangerously near striking the schooner. Captain Matheson stated that at least twenty-five waterspouts were in the vicinity, the farthest being about two miles distant.

"In all my experience," said Captain Matheson, "I never saw so many at one time, and the sight was the most thrilling of its kind that I ever witnessed. All the spouts reached from the sea to the clouds, and it required neat navigation to avoid being struck. The big spout which came so close to the Dix was only a ship's length and passed with a whirl, and if it had struck the schooner it would have probably stripped the vessel of all her sails."

THE BLUES IN FIRE.

The explosion of the gas tank under the baggage car of a special train used by the Richmond Blues, caused a fire at the union station at New Haven, Conn., yesterday, that destroyed the train shed at the west end of the station and badly damaged the Adams Express shed. The baggage car of the Blues' train, containing their uniforms and other equipment; a freight car, several other baggage cars and a pay car were also burned.

At the time of the explosion Quartermaster sergt. O. O. Boisseau of the Richmond Blues, and Bert Arnold, of the New Haven Foot Guard, were going over the baggage in the car. They had a narrow escape, and both were painfully burned.

The loss will reach $10,000. The baggage car for the Blues is a total loss and their baggage is beyond redemption, but most of their loss is covered by insurance. The Blues went to New Haven as the guests of the Governor's Foot Guard of that city.

AUDUBON WORK IN VIRGINIA.

It will be of interest to the bird lovers in this state to know of the effort to organize an active Audubon Association, which has for its purpose the protection of the game and non-game birds. The first national movement in favor of protection of non-game birds of the United States was originated in the month of February, 1886, by Dr. G. B. Grinnell, editor of Forest and Stream, and it was called into existence by the sudden onslaught made on American birds not used for food to supply the demand of the millinery trade in America and Europe. An association called the Audubon Society was formed on the 13th of that month in the city of New York. Its growth was rapid, and in three years it had reached a membership of 50,000. The society takes its name from and is a living monument to the memory of the south's great artist and distinguished scientist, John James Audubon, of New Orleans, La., and its work should be especially dear to our Southland, for his name and fame is known in every clime. The most important line of work is (1) to awaken public sentiment; and (2) securing adequate legislation and the enforcement of the same. The State of Virginia is far behind her sister states in the appreciation and knowledge of the economic value of her bird life. Our laws are most defective, and the last legislature took a decidedly backward step in removing protection from many of the most valuable birds to the farmer, and whose destruction means serious loss to the state and nation. We have no game commissions, but 121 game wardens under no head warden to see that they do their duty, and consequently the laws are violated every day, and no punishment to the offender. Our beautiful cardinals and home-loving robins are shot at all times, as are also our great singers, the mocking birds, thrushes and etc, and their nests and eggs taken, and these reports come daily from all parts of the state of such flagrant violation of the new bird law. After some years of effort, a Virginia Audubon Association was organized in 1901 by Mr. J. B. Henderson and others, but for some reason it failed to accomplish the object for which it was formed, but we honor the efforts of these pioneers in our mother state, and desire their help in our renewed effort to build a great superstructure on the foundation laid by them. All the states east of the Mississippi have active Audubon societies except Virginia, and this should not be the case any longer. Her position makes it most important that she arouse from this lethargy and aid in this great national question of the "preservation of our wild life," a question second to none before the nation.

After several appeals, most urgent in their nature, from the National Association and the U. S. Biological Survey, the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs took up the work and unanimously decided to make every possible effort to arouse such interest in this subject as would lead to the formation of Audubon societies in every town and country seat, and to have the economic value of our birds better known in our public schools.

To urge the observance of "Bird and Arbor Day," and to ask all clubs and prominent people in our state to offer prizes in our public schools for the best essays on "Birds and their value to the state." A great deal of work has already been accomplished in this short while. The National Association sent a special teacher, Miss Moore, of North Carolina, to the summer school at Charlottesville where talks were given for one week before the assembly, the agriculture classes, the nature study classes and the story tellers' league. The Audubon leaflets were freely distributed and great interest aroused among the 900 teachers present. This week of splendid work by Miss Moore was followed by one of the most beautiful and instructive illustrated lectures on "Audubon work in the South" by Mr. T. Gilbert Pearson, of the North Carolina Association.

The Farmers' Institute, held in Richmond, August 4-6, had a rare opportunity in hearing the gifted and learned speaker, Dr. Henry Oldys of the Biological Survey, and so the United States government was represented. The daily papers gave this address much space, and we trust good will result in our agricultural districts.

All over our state there has been a great awakening, and now it only remains for us to organize, as soon as possible, the Virginia Audubon Association. Richmond has been chosen as the future headquarters of this work, and the call is to each one of her citizens to aid us in our efforts. We cordially invite all our people, our popular governor, senators and representatives, mayors, farmers and sportsmen, superintendents and teachers to unite with us in our labor of love for the protection of "our bird citizens."

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

PRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 11, 1908.

IN opening his campaign at Danville, Ill., yesterday, Mr. Cannon, speaker of the House of Representatives, went out of his way to say:

It is from the democratic south that come the complaints of convict labor competing with free labor, of violation of the peonage laws, of lack of laws for the protection of workers in mines and factories and of long hours of labor without regulation, and also of child labor. If the democratic party should come into control of the federal government it would be the members from the south who would control the democratic caucus in the House of Representatives and the organization of committees in the Senate, just as they have controlled in every democratic administration since the civil war. There has not been in the last 50 years a democratic speaker who did not come from the south, and there will not be a democratic speaker in the near future, whose election will not be dictated by the south.

Mr. Cannon was born in the south but since manhood has been one of the most violent southhaters in the whole country, as his speech clearly shows His utterance yesterday was a gratuitous insult to the entire south and a piece of consummate impudence in view of the recent cases of race war, bloodshed, rapine and plunder in the very capital of his own state. Mr. Cannon fears defeat and is becoming desperate.

COMMERCIAL failures in the month of August, as complied by R. G. Dun, were 1199 in number and $23,782,378 in amount of liabilities. In the same month last year there were 850 failures, with liabilities amounting to $15,197,749. Regarding the general situation, Dun's Review says that, despite the gradual improvement in business and the pronounced growth of confidence, the aftermath of the panic of last October is extending over into the new year further than was at first thought. "money has become easy, and high-grade commercial paper may be sold at low terms, but loans are still scrutinized with care. Erratic fluctuations in the prices of raw material, notably in wheat, cotton and hides, have complicated the situation. Improvements were noteworthy in the lumber and building class of industries over last August, the greatest failures being in the manufacturing industries.

MR. BRYAN in one of his speeches a few days ago made a good point when he said, "We are more stingy in making appropriations for the farmer than for any other classes of our people. For every dollar we spend on the Agricultural Department we spend more than $25 on the army and navy." But the farmers can reverse this if they choose to do so. They are in the majority and by sending the proper kind of men to Congress, men who would devote their time and energies to the development of their own country instead of the new "possessions" the vast sums spent on the army and navy would be saved and much of the money be devoted to internal improvements at home which would greatly help the farmers.

A RESOLUTION granting Congress three years' respite from old soldier legislation was adopted by the Grand Army of the Republic national encampment at Toledo, Ohio, last week. This was considerate, to say the least. It appears to have at last dawned upon some of the leaders that too much hammering for pension bills and relief measures might reflect discredit on the organization, which is kept up largely for these purposes, so they have wisely decided to take a rest and give Congress one.

THE Frick Coke Company, of Pittsburg, having decided to start up at once 75 per cent. of all its ovens, and requiring 5,000 men for that purpose, has sent word to the coke workers, who returned to Hungary last fall, that they are now wanted. The Frick people say that their efforts to man the ovens with home labor have proved fruitless. Nevertheless, labor leaders say that they will force the contract labor law into action to prevent the re-employment of the men from Hungary and trouble is expected which may take a political turn.

VACATION days at the various schools of the city are rapidly drawing to a close and teacher and student are preparing to again take up their work. The public and several of the private schools will reopen on Monday and successful sessions are expected. The buildings have been put in order and everything is in readiness for the opening. In the public schools the attendance will be about the same as that of last year and this holds also as to the private schools. No change has been made in the personnel of the teachers of the public schools.

The taking of testimony in the contempt proceedings against President Samuel Gompers and other American Federation of Labor officials in the Bucks Stove and Range Company case, was begun today at the Typographical Temple. The conscience fund was enriched to the extent of $1.50 today by a contribution from an unknown man at Concord, N. H. The tropical storm, central Thursday morning north of Porto Rico, has moved northwesterly and is now approaching the eastern Bahamas. Barometric pressure continues high over practically the entire country, and under its influence, fair weather is general, except along the south Atlantic and gulf coasts. Temperatures have not changed decidedly in any district. The indications point to generally fair weather in the middle Atlantic states, Virginia and the Carolinas.

A dispatch from Alperdon, where Queen Wilhelmina is staying, at the royal castle of Het Loo, states that the queen's hope of an heir has been disappointed. Official confirmation of the statement was given yesterday.

Tortured by robbers who sought $1,000 which they knew he had received, William Hartley, an old farmer of Glenwood, Pa., is in a serious condition. The burglars beat their victim until he was almost unconscious, and then placed his bare feet on a red-hot plow share.

John Rowzee Garrison, lawyer and former auditor of the District of Columbia, died yesterday at his home in Washington after an illness extending over two years. He was born in Stafford county, Virginia, and was about sixty-nine years of age.

District Attorney Darrin, of Queens, N. Y., announced with much regret yesterday that he had failed in an effort to secure the personal assistance and presence in court of District Attorney Jerome to help in the prosecution of Capt. Peter C. Hains and his brother for the killing of William E. Annis.

As the result of having fallen from the top of a third-story bay window of John H. Turnbill & Company's building, at Howard and Franklin streets, Baltimore, yesterday morning, Norman W. Smith, 24 years old, a window cleaner, died from his injuries at the Maryland General Hospital yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Protze, affectionately known by every resident of the neighborhood in which she lived, killed herself yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas in her apartments, at 883 Third avenue, New York, where she had resided for 20 years, dispensing charity in her small way to every person that appealed to her. Mrs. Protze was 83 years old Wednesday. She celebrated her birthday alone in her apartment and at its conclusion made the preparation for her death. She killed herself simply because she was tired of living any longer.

The Rt. Rev. Charles Henry Brent, bishop of the Philippines, who arrived in Washington from Boston yesterday, and who was twice elected bishop of Washington, attended a conference with several influential members of the Washington Episcopal diocese yesterday at the home of the late Bishop Satterlee, and discussed thoroughly the conditions of the local diocese. Bishop Brent was asked to reconsider his declination to become bishop of Washington, and declined, explaining he would not under any consideration give up his work in the Philippines.

Today's Telegraphic News

Mr. Bryan.

Urbana, O., Sept. 11.—Democracy's invasion of Taft territory began today. W. J. Bryan swept across Ohio early en route to West Virginia points where he will speak this afternoon and tonight. Later he will return to Ohio and spend two days "carrying the war home" to his opponent. Bryan spoke at Evansville, Ind., last night to 25,000 persons. He went to sleep early but was awakened at 2 o'clock for a long distance telephone call from National Chairman Mack. It is understood the New York situation was the cause of the candidate being awakened. There is a growing demand from New York that Bryan name the candidate for governor, as the present leaders there seem to think his intervention would settle the Kings county muddle. Up to the present he has positively declined to interfere in state politics and there is no reason to believe that Mack was more successful than he was last Monday in Chicago. Mr. Bryan will arrive in Wheeling at 2:30 this afternoon. He leaves tonight for Cumberland. At Wheeling he expects to meet the West Virginia and Maryland party leaders and they will accompany him to Deer Lodge, where the situation in the two states will be canvassed. Mr. Bryan has decided that the leaders in both West Virginia and Maryland must play fair and he will make this plain to them before he goes on to New York.

Dennison, O., Sept. 11.—With charges that Judge Taft, his republican opponent, is deliberately beclouding the issues and that his "amendments," to the republican platform as adopted in Chicago, tend to deceive rather enlighten the voters, William Jennings Bryan today made a series of short, snappy speeches while sweeping across Ohio enroute to West Virginia, and the east.

Receivers for Fish Trust.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Ancillary proceedings for a receivership will be started today throughout the country on behalf of A. Booth & Co., the $6,500,000 corporation known as the "fish trust." Acting on the petition of the Linen Thread Company, of New Jersey, and Alfred E. Booth, of Baltimore, the latter a stockholder, director and member of the family which founded the business forty years ago, U. S. Circuit Judge Besthea late yesterday afternoon granted the receivership. William J. Chalmers, president of the Commercial National Safety Deposit Company and director in the Allis-Chalmers Company, was appointed receiver. His bond was fixed at $50,000.

This action was taken after a long conference between the fish trust officials, bank officials and bank attorneys in which the banking men declared their inability to protect the firm's financial integrity.

The total liabilities of the corporation are placed at $5,896,500, principally notes held by brokers and banks. The assets are placed at $8,000,000. The four principal Chicago banks involved are the Corn Exchange National, The First National, The Commercial National and the Continental National. The Chicago banks are said to be carrying paper aggregating from $1,000,000 to $2,125,000. A number of local bank officials will meet today to organize a creditors' committee. Receiver Chalmers in a public statement said the affairs of the company would be operated as usual. W. Vernon Booth is president of the company.

No Heir to Dutch Throne.

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—For the third time Holland has been disappointed in its ardent hope that Queen Wilhelmina would bring an heir to the Dutch throne. Just as hopes were mounting highest, comes the announcement from the Royal Castle Pet Loo, at Apeldoorn, where the queen went expecting an accouchment, that the birth was premature. Official confirmation of this report was received today.

Accompanying the report was the physicians, statement that it will be idle for the people again to expect an heir to the throne. The queen is rapidly regaining her health and the alarming reports concerning her condition are unwarranted. She is much depressed however, at the disappointment of her people. As Queen Wilhelmina is the last member of the House of Orange, a successor to the throne will have to be chosen by the queen and a special joint convention of the two houses of parliament. Already there is talk of making the country a republic, upon the death of the present queen, but the time is hardly believed to be ripe for such a move.

Arrests in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—For violation of the governmental prohibition of formal celebrations in honor of Count Leo Tolstoy's eightieth birthday the arrest of more than 1,000 persons throughout the empire is reported today.

Most of the arrests are for minor infractions of the prohibition and the offenders will probably be speedily released. In a number of more serious cases an effort will be made to exile the guilty persons. The day passed off more quietly than anticipated, no serious outbreaks being reported.

Persians Defeated.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—Dispatches received from Tabriz today tell of the complete defeat of 2,000 Persian soldiers and two companies of Kurds by a large force of mountain tribesmen, adherents of Satar Khan, leader of the Persian revolutionists. The soldiers were en route from Maku to Tabriz and were under the command of Izzatull Khar. They were intercepted ten miles from Tabriz and after a fierce fight were driven back. The defeated army was going to the relief of Ain-Ed-Dowleh, commader of shah's forces, encamped near Tabriz.

Tax on Corporations.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11.—State Comptroller Glynn announced today that the total collections from corporations this year aggregate $9,000,000. Four thousand corporations have been taking off the taxable list during the past twelve months owing to failures. There was a shrinkage from previous years in the tax on trust companies of $230,000 owing to a depreciation in their securities following last fall's panic; a decrease of $60,000 in the tax on foreign bankers and a depreciation of $36,000 in the assessment of the capital stock of telephone and telegraph companies.

The Eucharistic Congress.

London, Sept. 11.—Simultaneous with the announcement from Archbishop Bourne today that the parade of Catholics will not be abandoned on Sunday the Protestant alliance applied for an injunction to prevent the demonstration. The judge of the court in which the petition was filed was found to be on a vacation. He will return until tomorrow, when the petition will not be presented to him and an immediate decision demanded. The general belief here is that the petition will be refused. The decision of Archbishop Bourne and others of the leading figures in the great Euchristic congress that is now being held here to go ahead with the parade, after having almost decided to abandon it, came as a result of the widespread protest from Catholics and Protestants alike. It is recognized that it will be difficult to annul the old law but that it should have been revived at this time and made the means of stirring up a religious strife such as seen in olden times, was bitterly denounced.

Members of the Protestant Alliance, which has attempted to stir up an anti-Catholic feeling and to prevent the parade of Catholics on Sunday, the most spectacular feature of the Eucharistic Congress, were warned of death today in case the alliance exhibits any show of bigotry in connection with the parade. The Central News is authority for the statement that the secretary of the alliance received a letter from what is styled the "Catholic anti-bigotry society" signed by "J. B., secretary," which reads as follows:

"You are hereby warned that if any bigotry is displayed by your society in connection with the Eucharist parade Sunday, you and the leading members of the alliance will be punished by death. The anti-bigotry society is not sanctioned by the Catholic Church, but is an organization of influential laymen, some of whom are non-Catholics. Its purpose is to put down religious bigotry because bigots should not be allowed to live in the twentieth century."

The letter also contained a threat against certain members of the French cabinet for their alleged religious intolerance.

Secretary Fowler says that he is not at all alarmed by the letter, but he deemed it wise to turn it over to Scotland Yard.

The Dreyfus Affair.

Paris, Sept. 11.—The defense today in the trial of Louis A. Gregori, the assailant of Major Alfred Dreyfus in the Pantheon on June 4th was beaten at every turn in its effort to reopen the famous Dreyfus case to show justification for Gregori's attack. All efforts to reintroduce the evidence adduced at the Dreyfus trial were thwarted by president of the court. Finally Maitre Menard, Gregori's chief counsel, declared that as his client's defence depended wholly on the general situation and sentiments that surround the whole Dreyfus episode which could only be shown by an examination of witnesses familiar with the story from its beginning, he had no other recourse than to appeal to the jury to appreciate the president's act in preventing light from being thrown on the situation.

Today's session began with a sharp duel of words between the president and Colonel Du Paty de Clam, a witness, who said Gregori wanted to tear away the veil of mystery in which the government had deliberately enshrouded the Dreyfus case and that only some such act as the shooting of Dreyfus in the Pantheon could force these revelations.

The president intervened, declaring that he would not allow allusions to the Dreyfus case or criticism of the government's attitude favoring Dreyfus.

After a violent scene, in which there were heated remarks from all parts of the chamber, Col. Du Paty de Clam's testimony was barred out. The same thing happened to Lecocq, who last April spat in the face of War Minister Picquart; Socialist Deputy Bietry, Editor Massard of the Patrie and Henri Rochefort.

After each of these witnesses had spokes, the president ordered his remarks set aside on the plea that they either assailed Dreyfus immediately or pleaded Gregori's case without bringing definite facts to bear in justification of his attempt on the life of Dreyfus.

Gregori was sentenced to from two to five years for shooting Maj. Alfred Dreyfus in the Pantheon, June 4th.

Slaughter of Lunatics.

Lisbon, via Badajoz, Sept. 11.—With 12,000 lunatics, many of them of marked homicidal tendencies, wandering through the rural sections of Portugal, and with no protection against their depredations bands of citizens are now engaged in one of the most brutal and revolting crusades ever known in a civilized country, the shooting down of the lunatics like wolves. Orders have been sent from Lisbon to stop the slaughter immediately but the situation is so desperate that local authorities are disregarding their instructions and the butchery continues. There are 14,000 maniacs in Portugal, a larger proportion than is found in any other country, yet there are no asylums for their care, except those supported by voluntary contributions. Owing to the frightful financial stringency, several of these asylums have been closed recently and their inmates turned loose upon the public. These wandering and starving maniacs have been found guilty of many murders and the situation finally became so desperate that bands of vigilantes got to work. Organized parties are scouring the country districts and every suspected lunatic found is shot down. Several cases are reported of perfectly sane men and women slain thus by mistake. The hunt is so general, means of communication so poor and the censorship so strict that an accurate estimate of the number of victims is impossible.

Helen Maloney Divorced.

New York, Sept. 11.—Final papers in the suit of Helen Maloney against Arthur H. Osborne for the annulment of their marriage were handed up to Judge Gerard today. There was no opposition and it is expected that a final decision will be returned at an early date. Augustin Hames, counsel for Martin Maloney, papal marquis and Philadelphia millionaire, appeared for Miss Maloney. It is believed that when a final decree of annulment has been rendered Miss Maloney will marry Samuel Clarkson with whom she eloped to Montreal and Europe a year ago.

Charles E. Davis was arrested at Omaha today on the charge of the murder in the first degree, in connection with the killing of Dr. Frederick Eustis.

Adheres to His Opinion.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Sept. 11.—In the latter part of the year 1902 after the new constitution went into effect, Attorney General William A. Anderson, replying to an inquiry, wrote a letter to A. R. Holderby, jr., a member of the board of registrars for Tuckahoe district, Henrico county, in which Lee Camp Confederate Soldiers' Home is located, and expressed the opinion that inmates of the soldiers' homes, whether Confederate or union, are not entitled to vote. He said today that he still adheres to this opinion. The inquiry today was prompted by the fact that the republicans of the Second Virginia district proposed to vote the inmates of the federal soldiers' home, at Hampton, in the ensuing November election.

The Forest Fires.

Duluth, Sept. 11.—Hibbing, Nashawauk and the Adriatic Mining settlements are today menaced again by a renewal of forest fires. Citizens of Hibbing fought a fierce fire which swept down on the town and destroyed several buildings last night. A terrific sheet of flame also approached Nashawauk and was within half a mile of the town when the wind abated suddenly and the place was saved.

Reports from other Minnesota towns along the shore of the lake state that a solid sheet of flame is sweeping the country and much standing timber and mining property has been damaged or destroyed.

A dispatch from Calumet, Mich. states that the passenger steamer Conrstogs, carrying 50 passengers from western Michigan cities to Calumet to attend the M. E. Conference, has been driven on a bar near Little Travers Island because of the thick smoke caused by forest fires. Tugs have been sent to assist the craft.

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 11.—Bush fires today surround this city and Port Arthur and citizens are battling to save outlying buildings from destruction. Along the line of the Canadian Pacific east of here is aflame and thousands of dollars worth of timber is being destroyed. Between here and Duluth forest fires are raging in many places and the village of Hymers, 30 miles from the American boundary is in danger of destruction.

Pasadena, Cal., Sept. 11.—Hundreds of men today are fighting a forest fire which has destroyed three houses near La Cresenta, a village west of here, and which for a time menaced the town. Thirteen square miles of the San Gabriel forest reserve has already been burned. At latest reports the flames were dangerously near Montevisa.

Runaway Crosses Railroad Bridge.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The feat of traveling on foot over the upper deck of the lower railway steel arch bridge was accomplished yesterday by a horse that started a mile back in the freight yards on the American side of the river. The animal ran straight ahead out on the railway bridge, crossing to the Canadian side, where it fell into a cattle guard, stopping all trains until it was released after much effort.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

In a rear-end collision on the Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn elevated railway at 1 o'clock between a Lexington avenue train and a Ridgewood train at Cumberland street, the motorman was killed and five persons were seriously injured. All the injured were taken to Brooklyn hospitals.

Gertrude Coghlan, the actress, has struck it lucky. At her summer home at Fortune Bay, Prince Edward Island, which Miss Coghlan inherited from her father, a valuable platinum mine has been discovered and Miss Coghlan has sold the mining rights to a Montreal firm for $125,000.

That Germany will be unsupported in her opposition to the Franco-Spanish Moroccan programme when it is presented to the signatories of the Algeciras treaty for ratification, was made certain today by an announcement by the French foreign office that it received an acceptance of the programme from every power except Germany.

A joint meeting of all the fraternities in the Chicago high schools will be held tomorrow morning to perfect plans for a legal war with the school board to prevent the enforcement of the board's "anti-frat" rule. At this time arrangements will be made to apply for a writ to prevent the board from suspending all members of secret societies.

Wilbur Wright attempted three aeroplane flights at Le Mans, France, today without success. He abandoned the first two flights owing to fog and alighted after a brief sail on his third attempt on account of the failure of his sparking apparatus to work properly. His longest flight today was four minutes and 52 seconds.

Western Maryland today is suffering the inconvenience of a water famine consequent on a long drought and the mountain streams are being dammed to procure a supply of drinking water for the towns. The Potomac river at Cumberland is the lowest ever known and navigation has been crippled on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. Rigid rules as to the waste of water are being enforced throughout the whole region.

According to Dr. John A. Brashear, the astronomer, of Pittsburg, cyclonic storms of more than usual intensity are raging on the sun and are responsible for a large number of sun spots. These disturbances are being noted on the earth in the form of magnetic disturbances of various kinds and may, according to Dr. Brashear, interfere with the wireless telegraph service if they continue.

The strike of union boiler makers against the Big Four railroad has collapsed. The strikers were today notified that they were at liberty to seek re-employment if the company would take them. Eight shops of the Big Four system in Illinois, Ohio and Indiana, involving 500 boilermakers, have been tied up since July 15. The men say they lost because the boilermakers on the other New York Central systems failed to strike with them.

Seven steamship lines operating to the Orient from Seattle, Portland and San Francisco have agreed upon an increased schedule of rates to take effect November 1. The increase is to be on through shipment only. It does not benefit the steamship lines, but will return the receipts of the railroads in conformity with a recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission. There is a general fear in Seattle, Wash., that the higher rate may drive much traffic to the Orient via the Suez canal.

BAD MANAGEMENT.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock a car was off the track at the station at Royal street. There were trains waiting on King street and one or two on Royal. Instead of backing those trains around the curve at the corner of King and Royal streets and getting people to work in Washington all of them were held until this milk train was placed on the track. Some of the workmen lost a half day on account of it, and perhaps others may lose position permanently. The superintendent of this road is an up-to-date railroad man and I am of the opinion he does not know these things occur. I would respectfully call his attention to the carelessness of some employes on the W., A. & Mt. Vernon Railway. H.

TOOK THE ALTAR WINE

When William P. Collins, the former sexton of the parish of the Blessed Sacrament, Fifty-sixth street and Chester avenue, Philadelphia, who was arrested on Wednesday accused of embezzlement and threatening to harm Father Higgings, the pastor of the church, was arraigned before Magistrate Scott at the Central station yesterday and more charges were preferred against him. Just how much money the prisoner took is not known, Father Higgins said, but it is supposed to have amounted to about $2,000. The accused denied that the sum was so large, but he admitted to $96. Father Higgins declared that the man was a sacrilegious vandal, who had repaid kindness by stealing the church money, drinking the altar wine and circulating scandalous reports about the parish. When it was discovered that the altar wine had been stolen the priest lost faith in the man and he was discharged.

MOUNTAIN OUT OF MOLE HILL

James Edmonds, the negro who seriously cut Thomas Tebbs with a knife a day or two ago, was, as stated in the Gazette of yesterday, fined $50 by Justice Caton. The wounded man appeared in court and the evidence in the case from two out of three witnesses was to the effect that Tebbs had first assaulted Edmonds with a hatchet, striking him over the eye. As stated above the police justice saw it was a common barroom scrap and imposed the $50 fine. As far as any criticism of the action of Justice Caton exists no one seems to know anything about it. Mr. S. G. Brent stated this morning that he did not make any such criticism as that accredited to him and further said he had no doubt that Justice Caton was perfectly right. The only conversation he had, he said, in the matter, was with a police officer.

THE AIRSHIPS.

Orville Wright yesterday at Fort Myer broke the world's record for time and distance for a heavier-than-air flying machine which he established yesterday. In a flight requiring great skill on account of a 10-mile-wind, he circled around the drill grounds at Fort Myer 58 times in 65 minutes and 52 seconds, exceeding the time of yesterday's record flight by three minutes and 37 seconds. The flight was witnessed by nearly a thousand people. He alighted because he was feeling tired. Everything was working smoothly when he alighted, and he might have remained up much longer.

TROUBLE AT DYKE.

Buried in the thoughts of a fruit merchant of this city for the past week was the story of an escape from being killed at the Dyke on Sunday. It appears that he and another citizen built a cottage at the Dyke station. The fruit merchant furnished most of the money and lumber. These friends got along very well till their wives figured in the festivities. On last Sunday the climax was reached and the wife of a well-known citizen drew a pistol and threatened to shoot the fruit merchant. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the lady in question, but Constable Payne has not as yet served the process. A sensational trial is expected the first of the week.

SUIT.

Mr. J. H. Trimyer, through his attorney, Judge C. E. Nicol, has entered suit in the Circuit Court of this city against the W., A. & Mt. V. Rwy. Co., for $5,000 for damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff in an accident some months since at the intersection of Cameron and Henry streets. It will be remembered that while preceding up Cameron street one night some months since an electric train in crossing the railroad track on Henry street was struck by a locomotive and several persons in the electric car, including Mr. Trimyer, were injured.

TRENTON TO BE ATTACHED.

The steamer Trenton, which plies between this city and the lower river landings, has been libelled in Norfolk and will be attached upon its arrival in this city today by U. S. Commissioner R. P. W. Garnett for debt due the Norfolk shipyard for repairs. The process will be served by Deputy Marshal Jos. F. Glover. The amount claimed is upward of $2,600. The agent of the steamer in this city says the attachment will not interfere with the steamer's usual trips as satisfactory arrangements will be made to settle the matter.

ELKS' DRAMATIC CLUB.

The Elks, Dramatic Club met last night at Fleischmans and formulated a series of entertainments for the winter season. All the male portion, of the membership was present, and manifested considerable interest in the progress of the club. The club has selected a play which will be put on soon. The entertainments furnished by the club are of a first class order, and are appreciated by all amusement lovers.

LOST HIS TEETH.

Quite a crowd of people assembled at the corner of Cameron and St. Asaph streets yesterday and it seemed as if an accident had occurred. On investigation it was found that a gentleman while driving on Cameron street between Pitt and St. Asaph had lost his false teeth. He found them, however, placed them in position and proceeeed on his journey. Some of the cobblestones on the street extend twelve inches above others.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Robert L. Garrett, wife and daughter, have returned from Blue Ridge Inn, Loudoun county.

Miss Lou Armstrong has returned from the Sulphur Springs, where she spent the summer.

Miss Minnie May Mankin and brother, Harry, are spending several weeks with their cousin, Mrs G. Lippitt Renner, at Charlestown, W. Va.—[Spirit of Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hill and Miss Lizzie Hisle have returned from Rehoboth, where they spent the summer.

Mr. Joseph Dreifus has returned from a business trip to Norfolk.

HELD UP.

Edward Wells, of Bull Run, Fairfax county, and his brother were held up by a negro about three miles from Manassas this morning. The men showed fight and the negro shot one of them in the leg and escaped.

BRYAN AND CANNON.

William Jennings Bryan passed through Speaker Cannon's congressional district yesterday, leaving a trail of denunciation and pointed queries for the speaker. By chance Mr. Bryan's train was just crossing the line into the speaker's district yesterday morning when Mr. Bryan read Mr. Cannon's speech at Springfield Wednesday, asserting that he had made $1,000,000 since 1896, selling "wind and ink" to the public.

Summoning his secretary, Mr. Bryan dictated a hot reply, denouncing the charge as false, and a few minutes later, before an audience of Mr. Cannon's neighbors, he was delivering this reply, with angry emphasis.

He told them that it was untrue that he was worth $1,000,000, and that his personal fortune amounted to, perhaps, only $125,000—certainly not over $150,000. He described how this fortune had been made from his books, lectures and newspaper writings, and he wound up by challenging Mr. Cannon to make public the amount of his own large private fortune and where he got it. With pointed significance he referred to the fact that Mr. Cannon had been in public office for 40 out of 47 years, and he demanded that he tell "what he had been selling" and "to whom he had sold it" in order to pile up so much money.

Bryan and Taft.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 11.—Tentative proposals for a joint debate between Wm. H. Taft and William J. Bryan in Cincinnati Sept. 23, have been received in the camps of both candidates. Both candidates will be in Cincinnati September 23.

The chances of bringing into this campaign a climax that no other has held are remote, but correspondence with Bryan by Cincinnati labor leaders has brought from the commoner an expression that he would accept a defiance to meet his foe.

If Taft should receive a proposal, it would be submitted to the political strategists of the national committee.

The project has not progressed to a stage of definite effort but Taft and Bryan may meet informally when Bryan reaches Cincinnati.

As Bryan will speak in Taft's home, so Taft will probably invade Bryan's own domain at Lincoln during Taft's western tour.

Refusal by Taft to pledge himself to any engagement subsequent to September 25 indicates that his tour will begin about that time.

The convention of the national association of republican clubs, set for Sept. 22, will probably be abandoned. Refusal of the railroads to make rates for campaign pilgrimages is given as the greatest draw back to the project.

New York, Sept. 11.—Uncertainty as to when and where William J. Bryan, the democratic presidential candidate will speak in this city was set at rest this afternoon by the positive announcement that Carnegie Hall has been hired for his appearance on the night of September 18th.

Herman Ridder will introduce Mr. Bryan.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 11.—The bulk of the trading during the first hour was of a professional character. There were few important changes. Brokers in close touch with the Harriman interests told their friends that they had it direct that an important announcement in regard to Union Pacific and its controlled lines will be made in New York.

The Supreme Court of Oklahoma has rendered a decision sustaining the bank deposit guarantee statute as constitutional. The opinion of the court was unanimous.

The Hess Oxfords, "the finest", reduced. $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 grades go at $3.90. J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

Too Well Imitated.

It is no easy matter for a violin maker to rival the famous Stradivarius instruments, but this an American maker did, and did so effectively that experts pronounced his violin a genuine Stradivarius.

The successful man was the late George Gemunder, a famous violin maker of New York. His remarkable ability as a preparer of violins was known to many a distinguished player, such as Ole Bull, Remenyi and Wilhelmj. But he made, so runs the story, his greatest success at the Paris exposition of Eiffel tower fame. To that exhibition he sent an imitation Stradivarius and to test its merits had it placed on exhibition as the genuine article.

A committee of experts carefully examined the instrument and pronounced it a Stradivarius. So far Mr. Gemunder's triumph was complete. But now came a difficulty. When he claimed that it was not an old violin, but a new one made by himself, the committee would not believe him. They declared he never made the instrument and pronounced him an impostor. He had done his work too well.

Can't Twiddle Their Thumbs.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes, have many points of resemblance to man, but there is one thing they cannot do—that is, twiddle their thumbs. In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle his thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle. There are the same number of bones in the hand of a gorilla as in the hand of a man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers and never bends it round any object that may be grasped. In the gorilla the web between the fingers extends to the second joint, the fingers taper to the tips, and there is a callosity on the knuckles on which the animal rests when walking on all fours.

Fickleness in Penmanship.

Speaking of check signatures and forgery, a downtown paying teller remarked: "One of the most peculiar points in our business is one little comprehended by the public. I mean the embarrassment caused by the man whose signature is seldom the same, or nearly so, two weeks in succession.

"This fickleness is not intentional. It is in almost every case temperamental. The man guilty of it is generally nervous and not infrequently is greatly lacking in stability of character. At times you, as a layman, would hardly believe it possible that his signature on two different checks was the work of the same hand.

"Of course we come to know these cases in time, and there are always certain characteristics in a person's handwriting which the expert can detect and which go far to convince Nevertheless the changeable signature is a nuisance and involves an added peril."—New York Globe.

How Men and Women Face Death.

How do men and women face death when the sentence is pronounced by the doctor? A medical man tells us his experience. Tell the man of higher type and greater intelligence, he says, that he is facing death and he begins to fight, demands a consultation, talks about going to specialists and fights grimly to the finish. Tell a woman the same facts, and she lies back to await her fate. All women are fatalists. On the other hand, tell a man that he has one chance in a thousand to recover if he will undergo an operation, and he will trust to his own strength and endurance rather than undergo the knife. The woman will choose the thousandth chance and submit to the operation with astounding calmness.—Woman's Life.

Burning With Curiosity.

A certain famous authoress who is much worried by unknown correspondents has taken her revenge in a somewhat eccentric fashion. She received a letter from a woman informing her that the writer had named her last baby after her and requesting the authoress' views on her choice. She received a thick envelope, heavily sealed, with this inscription: "Not to be opened till baby's thirtieth birthday." Now the mother is worrying herself day and night as to the contents of the envelope.

Lines by a Sick Poet.

Mr. William Watson, when ill in London and attempting a dinner for which he had no appetite, scribbled these lines on a scrap of paper, which he threw to his attendant:

Strange sauce that's mingled with the meat.
Strange meat that's mingled with the sauce—in vain.
I eat and, wond'ring what and why I eat,
Long for the porridge of my youth again.

—London Chronicle.

Quite Clear.

Masquerader (explaining who he is supposed to represent)—I'm that fellow who fought the battle of what do you call it, you know. What's his name says all about him in his great book You remember, every one took him for the other chap until they found he couldn't be; then they knew he wasn't. Think I look the part?—London Sketch.

Going Some.

"Was his auto going very fast?"

"Your honor, it was going so fast that the bulldog on the seat beside him looked like a dachshund."—Houston Post.

Hope is the dream of the man awake.—Plato.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are for weak back, backache, rheumatic pains, inflammation of the bladder and all other annoyances due to weak kidneys. They are sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Tourist Excursion Fares.

The Southern Railway announces effective June 1st resumption of sale of tourist excursion tickets to points in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, etc., and return. These tickets will be on sale daily until September 30; final return limit October 31, unless otherwise specified. For further information apply to nearest coupon ticket agent, Southern Railway.

According to History.

A woman who belongs to a community called the Sisters of St. John the Baptist not long ago spent a month in a backwoods district. Shortly after her arrival she went to the local postoffice and inquired if any letters had come for Sister Bernardine. The rural postmaster looked bewildered.

"Sister who?" he asked incredulously.

"Sister Bernardine," repeated the lady, "a sister of St. John the Baptist."

"I think not," he answered. Then, after some reflection, he added, "Say, ain't he been dead pretty near a hundred years now?"—Harper's Weekly.

Her Limitations.

"These pianos look too cheap," said the young woman, her brows contracting slightly. "Show me some of the best you've got."

"Yes, ma'am," said the salesman. "May I ask how high you care to go?"

"Me? Oh, I only go to G, but I want one with all the octaves just the same."—Chicago Tribune.

Let Him Try.

"I fear no foe in shining armor," sang the man at a concert.

"Don't you, old chap?" grumbled the bachelor in the front row. "Then you try to open a sardine box with a pocketknife."

One Secret.

Lawyer—I must know the whole truth before I can successfully defend you. Have you told me everything? Prisoner—Except where I hid the money. I want that for myself.

He Knew.

"I suppose you know why you are here?" asked the judge severely.

"Yes, sir," answered the prisoner "I wuz drug here."—Birmingham Age Herald.
